LOCALIZING YOUR CDS MEMBERSHIP

Joining the Chicago Dental Society is an excellent way to elevate your career in dentistry. CDS membership spans the Chicago metropolitan area, with geographic "branches" in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties. When you join, you are placed into one of these nine branches, however, you have the option to choose any branch: one close to your home or practice or a branch where you already have friends and colleagues.

Because CDS encompasses such a large area, the organization is comprised of nine branches that meet at least four times locally throughout the year.

- Englewood
- Kenwood/Hyde Park
- North Side
- North Suburban
- Northwest Side
- Northwest Suburban
- South Suburban
- West Side
- West Suburban

CDS branch meetings showcase presenters who offer Continuing Education (CE) credits for your licensure and various social events. Branch meetings are an excellent opportunity to connect with other dental professionals in your neighborhood, find a mentor, build a referral network, discuss practice challenges and successes, and further your development as a clinician.

Each branch has board officers who are elected each spring. If you're interested in volunteering or in a branch leadership position, reach out to your branch officers for more information.

GETTING INVOLVED WITH CDS

There are many opportunities to expand your CDS membership. Getting involved is a great way to boost your network, enhance your professional and clinical development and open doors to new opportunities. With so many options, we want to highlight specific opportunities to consider.

Branch Involvement and Leadership

If you're interested in getting involved, the best place to start is through your local branch. Each CDS branch has different options, so reach out to the officers in your branch to see what's available in:

- Event Planning
- CE Programming
- Membership Recruitment and Retention
- Mediation and Peer Review Committees
- Midwinter Meeting Committee Volunteers

Each branch has its own director, officers and committees to handle its affairs. If you are interested in serving, talk to your current board officers for details.

CDS Leadership and the Coalition

After serving in branch leadership positions, members may advance to a CDS board position. CDS has three leadership development groups that decide on officers for its Board of Directors. The three groups are: the Members Group, the Independent Organization and the Progressive Club. These groups form what is called the Coalition.

A CDS member is not required to be a member of any leadership development group to hold branch office or to be active within the society.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE AND THE TRIPARTITE RELATIONSHIP

The Tripartite

The Chicago Dental Society is part of a tripartite relationship with the American Dental Association and the Illinois State Dental Society. While each organization exists independently, the national, state, and local components work together, offering a comprehensive set of benefits to members.

Dentists who practice in Illinois, and more specifically in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties, must join CDS as a Tripartite Member. CDS serves approximately 3,800 Tripartite Members. The nine CDS branches provide the unique opportunity to network with colleagues who live and practice in your own community.

AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION
(The ADA works for dentists on the national level)

ILLINOIS STATE DENTAL SOCIETY
(CDS works with ISDS to advocate on state legislation)

CHICAGO DENTAL SOCIETY
(CDS represents local Chicago-area dentists)

NINE CDS BRANCHES
(CDS members connect with local branches, linking them to colleagues in the communities in which they live and work)

Englewood • Kenwood/Hyde Park • North Side
North Suburban • Northwest Side • Northwest Suburban
South Suburban • West Side • West Suburban

Associate Members
Associate members are dentists who practice outside of Cook, Lake and DuPage counties. While these members cannot vote in CDS elections, they can enjoy many member benefits, including free registration to the Midwinter Meeting.

Organizational Structure and Leadership
CDS is governed by a Board of Directors, consisting of a President, President-Elect, Secretary, Vice President, Treasurer, New Dentist Director, and a director from each of the nine CDS Branches. The nine branches operate independently (while adhering to the CDS Constitution and Bylaws) and are governed by their own boards.

THE HISTORY OF THE CHICAGO DENTAL SOCIETY

The Chicago Dental Society is an active member association founded in 1864 and is closely intertwined with the origins and evolution of the dental profession in Chicago and beyond.

The City of Chicago has played a central role in moving the dental profession forward and continues to be headquarters to many professional oral health associations. Chicago is also home to many influential figures in dentistry, including the father of modern dentistry, Dr. Greene Vardiman Black.

The Chicago Dental Society was founded on February 8, 1864, by a group of Chicago dentists with the goal of advancing the profession, improving public health, and promoting the art and science of dentistry.

CDS Mascot Hadley the Hound is named after the first CDS President, Dr. E.W. Hadley, who was the oldest dentist living in Chicago when CDS was founded.
